

Abstract

The bachelor thesis titled „Pastoral situation in selected parishes entrusted to the orders“ provides a description and assessment of the pastoral situation in selected parishes in central Prague. The subject is treated by the method of study of basic and specific documents and own research. The theoretical part deals with the essential themes of pastoral care, parish and order from the theological and juridical point of view. The results of the practical part are demonstrated as responses to three predetermined questions: Is there anything specific in the pastoral care within the central Prague? How is the mission attribute of each order manifested in selected parishes? Does the order fulfill its pastoral duties imposed by their chapters? Each of the five parishes of the first Prague vicariate is characterised by a brief description of its history and a quite detailed description of current pastoral activities. With the use of the four Church's basic tasks, these activities are listed and summarized in a graph. The conclusion summarizes the research and answers to the questions and suggests the possibility of further studies focused on the development of these selected parishes.
